NATION TO OBSERVE DR. W. T. ELLIS' PLAN

Sunday School Teachers Throughout the Land Given Recognition This Week-End

Swarthmore's outreach into the big world is unusual and many-sided. The latest activity of one of our citizens to command national attention is the country-wide observance of National Recognition Day for Sunday School teachers tomorrow and Sunday, which is a brain child of Dr. William T. Ellis, who has long been a figure in the Sunday School world.

The idea is simplicity itself, yet it has caught the public imagination, viz., to do open and simultaneous honor to the more than two million unsalaried and unsung Sunday School teachers of the land. Dr. Ellis first proposed the plan in an article in the religious press a year ago. Later an interdenominational committee of Sunday School leaders took it up and formed a national committee, with Dr. Ellis as chairman. For months past the subject has been bruited in the religious press and in newspaper articles. Even Time and the Ladies' Home Journal have had editorial articles upon it. The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church last May enthusiastically endorsed it, as did other church bodies.

The plan includes Sunday School parades on Saturday afternoon, civic meetings on Saturday night and special sermons and services on Sunday, the 7th. Some of the greatest cities of the land are holding big civic demonstrations next Sunday. The Mormons are giving a special Tabernacle demonstration in honor of their 30,000 Sunday School teachers. In Des Moines the plans include recognition of the public school teachers as well. All sorts of local variances have developed. Individual churches and schools have taken it up generally.

President Roosevelt sent a strong letter to Dr. Ellis, in approval of National Recognition Day. Governors of a number of states, including Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, have issued statements endorsing (Continued on Page 8)

HIGH SCHOOL TO PLAY P. M. C. PREP.

Open Football Season with Game at Rutgers Avenue Field This Afternoon

Swarthmore High School will open with its initial fray today. P. M. C. Prep. is to be the victim at Rutgers Avenue field. The kick-off is at 3.30 sharp, when the two teams will go into action.

Swarthmore has a first-class team this year; although not heavy, it is fast. Howard Dingle is the captain and has been playing center on the varsity for three consecutive years. Bunny Henderson is the stocky little quarterback, while Lawrence Barry is the driving power in the position of fullback. Ernest Polk and Gordon Findlay are halfbacks, Polk being the fastest man on the team. John Wolf and Lester Jones are ends, with Vic Troxell and Rob Walters as guards. Doc Dougherty and Jack Peirsol are tackles composing the balance of the team.

We expect a very successful season, and hope we will have your support. There are to be five home games this year and in order to help pay expenses we are going to sell programs at a nominal fee. They will contain schedule, players and their numbers, and all other data concerning the team. Help to support your team by buying these programs.

GEORGE ALSTON, JR.

"Brownies" to Meet

The first fall meeting of the "Brownies" will be held at 3 P. M. on Monday at the College Avenue School gymnasium. All girls from 7 to 10 years of age are eligible for membership in this organization, which corresponds to the "Cubs" and prepares for Girl Scout membership later.

Legion Branches Meet Here

The Swarthmore Branch of the American Legion Auxiliary entertained sixty-five members of the Norwood, Ridley Park, Clifton, Media and Chester Branches of the organization on Tuesday evening at the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Eleanor Evans, of Brookline, installed the new officers for the coming year, and Mrs. C. W. McDowell, of Harvard Avenue, Swarthmore, entertained after the business meeting. Mrs. McDowell gave some very interesting readings.

PARENTS' MEETING ON THURSDAY NEXT

Unique Plan by Which Parents Learn Daily Routine of Schools To Be Continued

Parents' Night will be held at the high school on Thursday, October 11, at 8 o'clock, in connection with the first Home and School Association meeting of the year, according to announcement just made by Mr. William Craemer, the president of the Association for the current year.

This plan was decided upon at a meeting of the Executive Committee, held in the High School office last Thursday. There were present at this meeting the president, Mr. William Craemer; vice-president, Mr. Roland G. E. Ullman; secretary, Mrs. Alfred Gary White; treasurer, Mrs. S. S. Rutherford, and Mr. Frank R. Morey, supervising principal of the schools. There were also present representing the faculty committee working with the mothers' groups, Miss Margaret Hamel, of the High School, and Miss Theresa Young, of the Grade Schools.

The plan for this Parents' Night follows closely the plan developed last year, which was so successful in spite of the very inclement weather at the December meeting. The plan calls for a general meeting of the parents in the auditorium for school assembly at 8 o'clock. Thereafter they will go to their children's home rooms to meet the teachers and to receive instructions for the remainder of the evening. After a brief meeting during which the home room teacher will discuss home room activities, the parents will follow their children's schedule for ten minute periods during the six periods of the school day, meeting the teachers and sitting in the same seats in the same rooms. After the meeting, which should close about 9.45, all will be invited to adjourn to the school cafeteria for a social hour. The committee believes this will be one of the best attended meetings and one of the most popular features of the Association's activities for some time past.

The committee also expressed its disappointment that the complete scholarship fund of $300 had not been raised last year, and plans to invite interested parents and friends of the schools to contribute a donation to wipe out the deficit in this scholarship. The dues for the coming year were maintained at $2.00 per family in the hope that a sufficient number of families may join to make it possible to award a full scholarship of $300 next spring.

Because of certain conflicts on the second Monday, it is planned to propose to the membership committee that subsequent meetings of the year be held on the first Monday of each month.

CONDUCT FLOWER SHOW AT SCHOOLS

Judges Confronted with Difficult Task as Pupils Enter Into Keen Competition

The classrooms of the two grade school buildings were converted into flower gardens last Friday with lovely displays of fall flowers. The occasion was the flower show conducted by the children of the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Each child in the room was invited to bring a display of flowers or vegetables to his or her room. The displays were judged on arrangement, condition of flowers and appropriateness of bowl or vase. The judges of the displays were Mrs. A. R. O. Redgrave, of the Women's Club; Miss Claudia Hancock, art supervisor; Miss Elizabeth Barten, science teacher, and Mr. Eugene Duncan, of the High School staff. The committee of judges in trying to select the best room display in the third and fourth grades, found that the two third grades tied for first place, so that the prize of an American flag was awarded to Miss Hewes' room at the Rutgers Avenue building and a similar prize to Mrs. Kinsey's room at the College Avenue building. The winner of the American flag prize for the best display in the fifth and sixth grades was the fifth grade at the Rutgers Avenue building, of which Miss Margaret Moore is the teacher. The best individual display in the third and fourth grades was that of Jean Storrs, in the College Avenue third grade. Honorable mention went to Edward Belfield, of the Rutgers Avenue third grade. The best individual display in the fifth and sixth grades was that of Richard Keppler, of the fifth grade in the Rutgers Avenue building, with Grace Brown, of the Rutgers sixth grade, receiving honorable mention. Roy Witmer, Fire Chief, Tells How to Prevent Fires

A FEW DON'TS FOR FIRE PREVENTION

Next Week Is Fire Prevention Week; Roy H. Witmer Issues Timely Warnings

It is of the utmost importance for every citizen of Swarthmore to prevent fires. This can be accomplished by carefulness and common sense methods. I would like to mention a few DON'TS—

Do not put hot ashes in wooden or cardboard containers—use metal.

Do not burn rubbish outside on windy days.

Do not use matches or candles in closets; be very careful of open flames at all times. Do not carelessly dispose of cigarette butts.

Be careful of matches.

Do not store oily mops or rags used for waxing; put them in a metal container, where, if spontaneous combustion occurs, it can be quickly curbed.

Inspect your smoke pipe and chimney. Soot will burn.

Thaw frozen pipes with hot water, not flame.

When you burn leaves be sure you have them far enough away from any buildings.

Remember, fire is one of our most dangerous and costly public enemies, and a little prevention is worth a pound of cure. Above all, do not hesitate to call the Fire Department.

ROY H. WITMER, Chief of the Swarthmore Fire Dept.

DEMOCRATS RALLY AT CLUB DEL RIO

Many Attend Meeting on Monday and Hear Numerous Addresses of Interest

On Monday, October 1, the Young Democratic Club of Delaware County held a gigantic rally at the Club Del Rio on West Chester Pike. Preceding the rally a motor caravan of 300 machines crossed the county from Chester by way of Darby, Lansdowne and Upper Darby. An enthusiastic crowd of over 1,000 packed the hall and cheered each speaker.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. James F. Bogardus, the president of the Young Democratic Club. Numerous speakers represented both the state and county tickets. Mr. George H. Earle, Jr., candidate for Governor, and Mr. Thomas A. Logue, candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs, represented the state ticket, while John McDonough, Congressional candidate discussed county and national issues. The Young Democrats were represented by Mrs. John Murphy and Mr. Frank L. Madden, whose excellent addresses illustrated the increasing interest which the young people are taking in political affairs. The county committee was well represented by Sheriff Pechin, Mr. Frank M. Longstreth, Mrs. Dornblaser, Dr. John Pitman, Mr. John Stinson, Mr. Frank B. Rhodes and Mr. John Stetser, each of whom addressed the meeting briefly.

Girl Scouts Resume Meetings

Members of Girl Scout Troop No. 6 will hold their first fall meeting at the Girl Scout House, on Cresson Lane, at 10.30 Saturday morning, October 6.

WOMEN'S CLUB OPENS COUNCIL TO BUY WITH TEA TUESDAY NEW POLICE CAR

Opening Reception Begins Fall Round of Activities of Club

The Swarthmore Woman's Club will hold its opening reception and tea next Tuesday, October 9, from 3 until 5. Each member is privileged to bring one guest to enjoy the hospitality of the Club.

The officers of the Club who will be in the receiving line are: President, Mrs. Jesse H. Holmes; first vice-president, Mrs. William Earl Kistler; second vice-president, Mrs. Roland Ullman; recording secretary, Mrs. Alfred Williams; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Clifford Buck; treasurer, Mrs. Horace Walter.

The tea table will be presided over by the past presidents of the Club.

Mrs. Jesse H. Holmes and Mrs. Arthur Redgrave will attend, as delegates from Swarthmore, the meetings of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs at Harrisburg, to be held October 15-19.

Swarthmore Asked to Co-operate With Towns on Mosquito Nuisance

J. Archer Turner presided at the regular meeting of Borough Council, held Wednesday evening in Borough Hall, with all members present.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read by Elliott Richardson, Borough Secretary, and approved.

John E. Gensemer, chairman of the Public Safety Committee, brought up the matter of a new police car. The car owned by the borough has over 65,000 mileage and needs frequent repairs. It is the opinion of both Mr. Gensemer and Burgess Pitman that a new car is needed at once. Council therefore authorized the advertisement of bids to sell the old car and to purchase a new one. An emergency was declared to make it possible to decide on the purchase of a new automobile at the next regular meeting, October 17.

The police report was presented by Mr. Gensemer, read and accepted. The report of the Swarthmore Fire and Protective Association was accepted. Mr. Gensemer referred to a letter from the Borough Council of Norwood asking Swarthmore to co-operate in plans to abate the mosquito nuisance in this vicinity. The secretary was requested to write a letter to Norwood Council telling of the interest of our Council and to state their desire to attend the meeting dealing with this problem.

Frank R. Morey, commander of the American Legion Post, and George Gillespie, vice-commander, appeared before Council and asked that Council reduce or discontinue the monthly rent paid by the local Legion post for its room in Borough Hall. Mr. Morey stated that the Legion felt that so many organizations were using the room free and that the Post does so much charity work that they should have the use of the room once a month (Continued on Page 6)

PUBLIC INVITED TO L.W.V. CONFERENCE

Beginning at 10.00 A. M. the Program Offers a Varied Education Beneficial to All

The Delaware County League of Women Voters extends a cordial invitation to you and your friends to attend a conference on "Child Problems and Community Responsibility," to be held today at Sleighton Farms, Darlington, Pa.

The program for the morning session is as follows: 10.00—At the invitation of Miss Mary W. Daley, Educational Director, Mrs. J. O. Hopwood asks all who are interested in education to meet her at the Administration Building promptly at 10 A. M., to visit the girls in their classes; 11.00 to 1.30—Talk on "Pennsylvania's Juvenile Delinquents," by Miss Margaret M. Swiggard, Field Worker, State Department of Welfare; 11.30 to 11.50—Miss Emily F. Morrison, Superintendent of Sleighton Farms, presents "Institutional Care of the Delinquent With Its Cost and Results." 11.50 to 12.10—Miss Mary W. Daley, Educational Director, will speak on "Special Educational Needs," followed by discussion from 12.10 until 12.30.

At 12.30 there will be an adjournment for luncheon until 2.00. Box luncheons should be brought. Tea and coffee will be served. During this time there will be opportunity to visit the buildings.

The afternoon session opens at 2.00 with Miss Margaret M. Swiggard speaking on "How Can the Community Prevent Juvenile Delinquency?"

From 2.00 to 2.30 the subject will be "Housing and Its Relation to Delinquency" and the speaker, Miss Dorothy P. Schoell, of the Philadelphia Housing Commission.

The closing subject, "Leisure Time Opportunity in Delaware County," presented by Dr. Stewart G. Cole, of Crozer Theological Seminary, will be from 3.00 to 3.30. Dr. Cole conducted the recent county recreational survey.

To reach Sleighton Farms take the Baltimore Pike to Lima, turn north past the County Poor Farm, turn left on road opposite Colafemina Vineyards.

On Friday, October 26, the Delaware County League is endeavoring to arrange a Candidates' Luncheon at Pierre's, but as definite plans have not yet been made, watch for further notice.

On Friday, November 9, there will be a Discussion Luncheon at League headquarters, Media, in charge of Mrs. J. Osborne Hopwood. "Education" will be the subject.

On Friday, December 7, a meeting will be held at League headquarters, at Media, in charge of Miss Alice C. Darnell. The subject will be "Vital Phases of Economic Welfare."

Receives Special Appointment

Mrs. J. Passmore Cheyne, of Rutgers Avenue, has been appointed special Republican Committeewoman to represent the Ninth Senatorial District, which is Delaware County.

Lecture on Birds

This Saturday, October 6, at 3 o'clock at the Woman's Club, Mrs. L. E. Griscom, of the Briarush Bird Sanctuary in Roslyn, Pa., will speak on "Our Feathered Friends." Her talk will be illustrated by slides, and will be of interest to all. Parents are especially urged to see that their children do not miss this exceptional opportunity.

JUNIOR CLUB OPENS TUESDAY EVENING

Plans for Coming Year Will Be Made at Meeting on October 9th

The Junior Section of the Woman's Club will open its 1934-35 season next Tuesday evening, October 9, at 8 P. M., in the club house. The plans for the year's work will be discussed and the Section Chairmen will call meetings of their Sections in order to outline their meetings.

The officers for the present year are as follows: President, Miss Eleanor Kennedy; vice-president, Mrs. James Bogardus; recording secretary, Mrs. L. Hedgepeth; corresponding secretary, Miss Virginia Bassett; treasurer, Miss Ruth Wellburn.

The chairmen of the committees are as follows: Program, Miss Martha Keighton; Hospitality, Mrs. Harlan R. Jessup; Bridge Parties, Miss Rosamond Wellburn; Literature, Mrs. F. Norton Landon; Music, Mrs. Edith Simpson; Welfare, Miss Olive Claves; Art, Mrs. Henry Mock; Food, Mrs. Christian Fries; Publicity, Mrs. C. Russell Phillips.

A meeting of the Literature Section will be held on October 16 at 8 P. M., at the home of the chairman, Mrs. F. Norton Landon. The purpose of this meeting will be the formation of book circles.

Fortnightly Program Arranged

On Monday, October 8, the Fortnightly will have its first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Wesley N. Clifford, on South Chester Road.

"A Backward Glance," by Edith Wharton, will be reviewed by Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop. In looking at the writing of autobiography in a casual way, one might think it is the most simple of compositions. "Who knows me better than I?" the writer might say! What to say of one's self that the world will care to read is the difficult question. Edith Wharton approaches this problem in a most unusual way. Mrs. Bishop will lead us through the fascinating pages.

In the place of speaking of summer reading which seems to be at a low ebb, members are asked to speak briefly on an event, or experience, or the carrying out of an idea as a part of their life during the summer.

Dues may be paid to Mrs. Robert Gillfillan or Mrs. Arthur Jones. Mrs. Charles D. Mitchell is chairman of the Admission Committee.

The secretary was requested to write a letter to Norwood Council telling of the interest of our Council and to state their desire to attend the meeting dealing with this problem.

Frank R. Morey, commander of the American Legion Post, and George Gillespie, vice-commander, appeared before Council and asked that Council reduce or discontinue the monthly rent paid by the local Legion post for its room in Borough Hall. Mr. Morey stated that the Legion felt that so many organizations were using the room free and that the Post does so much charity work that they should have the use of the room once a month (Continued on Page 6)

JUNIOR CLUB OPENS TUESDAY EVENING

Plans for Coming Year Will Be Made at Meeting on October 9th

The Junior Section of the Woman's Club will open its 1934-35 season next Tuesday evening, October 9, at 8 P. M., in the club house. The plans for the year's work will be discussed and the Section Chairmen will call meetings of their Sections in order to outline their meetings.

The officers for the present year are as follows: President, Miss Eleanor Kennedy; vice-president, Mrs. James Bogardus; recording secretary, Mrs. L. Hedgepeth; corresponding secretary, Miss Virginia Bassett; treasurer, Miss Ruth Wellburn.

The chairmen of the committees are as follows: Program, Miss Martha Keighton; Hospitality, Mrs. Harlan R. Jessup; Bridge Parties, Miss Rosamond Wellburn; Literature, Mrs. F. Norton Landon; Music, Mrs. Edith Simpson; Welfare, Miss Olive Cleaves; Art, Mrs. Henry Mock; Food, Mrs. Christian Fries; Publicity, Mrs. C. Russell Phillips.

A meeting of the Literature Section will be held on October 16 at 8 P. M., at the home of the chairman, Mrs. F. Norton Landon. The purpose of this meeting will be the formation of book circles.

Fortnightly Program Arranged

On Monday, October 8, the Fortnightly will have its first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Wesley N. Clifford, on South Chester Road.

"A Backward Glance," by Edith Wharton, will be reviewed by Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop. In looking at the writing of autobiography in a casual way, one might think it is the most simple of compositions. "Who knows me better than I?" the writer might say! What to say of one's self that the world will care to read is the difficult question. Edith Wharton approaches this problem in a most unusual way. Mrs. Bishop will lead us through the fascinating pages.

In the place of speaking of summer reading which seems to be at a low ebb, members are asked to speak briefly on an event, or experience, or the carrying out of an idea as a part of their life during the summer.

Dues may be paid to Mrs. Robert Gillfillan or Mrs. Arthur Jones. Mrs. Charles D. Mitchell is chairman of the Admission Committee.

National Recognition Day

FOR

Sunday School Teachers

THERE are thirteen American cities which have a population of half a million persons or more—if we include Washington, which has probably been brought over the half-million mark by The New Deal.

These cities are New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Los Angeles, Cleveland, St. Louis, Baltimore, Boston, San Francisco, Milwaukee, Buffalo and Washington.

Suppose we imagine the amalgamation of these thirteen cities into one vast metropolis. The population would number between twenty and twenty-one million persons.

Then imagine a grand moving day, with every mortal of the lot moving out into the country!

Into their empty places let us transport the Sunday School members of the Country—and there would not be a vacant room left!

In other words the membership of the Sunday Schools in the United States is just equal to the entire population of our thirteen largest cities. That will give the reader an idea of the physical magnitude of the American Sunday School. Of its character and purpose, more later.

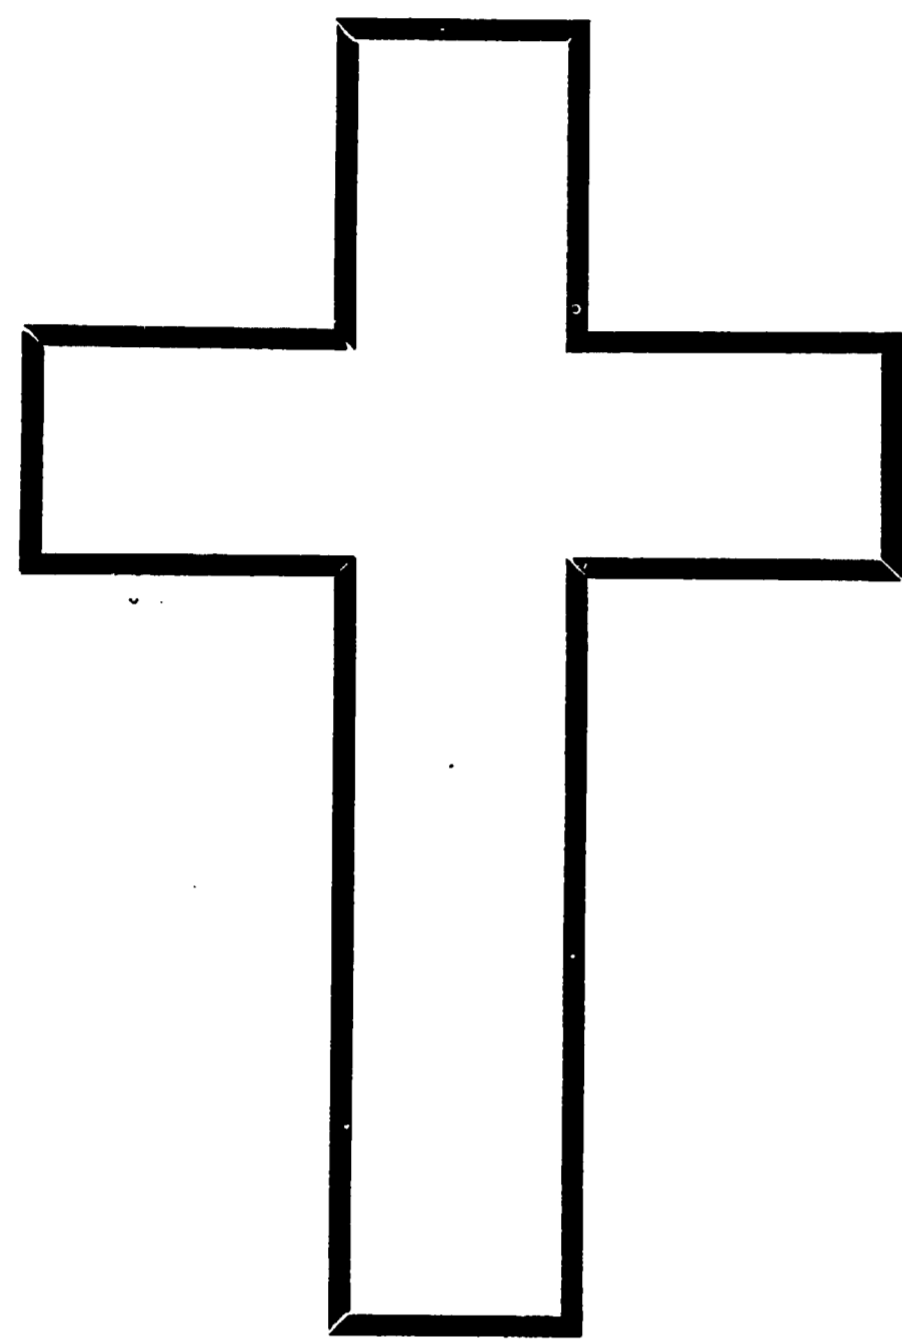

MANY FORCES have flowed together to create American civilization. The Church, the Public School, the Newspaper have all been major influences.

Today we stress this one agency, which, although world-wide, has come to its finest flower in this Country—the Sunday School.

Broadly speaking, practically all Americans have at some time or other attended Sunday Schools—Protestant, Roman Catholic or Jewish. For all faiths have adopted this agency for shaping the religious beliefs and moral character of youth.

Figures of Sunday School membership, as we have tried to visualize them, are rather staggering, and give pause to such persons as seldom look beyond the news of business, sports, politics, society and crime. We repeat: There are more than twenty million members in the Protestant Sunday Schools of the United States. We have not at hand the Roman Catholic, Jewish and other statistics; although we know there are 300,000 Mormon Sunday School members.

There is not a cross-roads village in all this wide land that does not have one or more Sunday Schools. In larger communities they abound. The all-pervasiveness of the Sunday School is second in significance only to the fact that its mission is to shape human character. Tirelessly, week after week, it studies the great stories and teachings of the Bible, and the eternal verities and integrities which alone can keep civilization sweet and strong. It sings the old hymns which become the lullabies sung by millions of mothers.

Certainly the Sunday School has been one of the basic conserving and constructive influences in our National life. Again and again, during the recent youthful "crime wave," judges have testified that none of the young people brought before them have been Sunday School members.

The Sunday School is a fence at the top of the precipice, rather than an ambulance at the bottom. If there were more and better Sunday Schools there would be need for fewer relief and reform organizations.

ALL OF THE FOREGOING is prefatory to the purpose of this Advertisement. Sunday—October 7, 1934—an unprecedented project is under way across the whole Country; in the greatest cities and in small towns and rural communities. For months past committees of public-spirited men and women have been preparing for this unique occasion in American life.

For Sunday has been set apart as National Recognition Day for Sunday School Teachers. The whole aim is to honor, by public meetings, by official proclamations and by such printed utterances as this, the work, all unsalaried and unsung, that is being done for God and Country by America's two million Sunday School teachers; who are one of the fundamental educational forces of our time.

That two million such high-minded, God-serving, children-loving men and women are in our midst, studying, laboring, praying tirelessly for the highest objectives, is a cause for profound gratitude on the part of every citizen. No alien forces of Communism or Fascism can hope to succeed in the face of such a National bulwark as these two million Christian patriots, who have the majority of our boys and girls under their care. It is high time that the whole Nation should pause and, chivalrously, generously, heartily, say "Thank You" to these conservers of our civilization.

WE WHOSE NAMES are appended to this Advertisement take this means of expressing our personal appreciation of the noble work of our own city's Sunday School Teachers. We honor them beyond the power of mere words to express. All considerations of patriotism and public concern move us to feel grateful to them with deep and sincere gratitude. They have our admiration, sympathy and co-operation.

WE ACCLAIM THEM AS PUBLIC SERVANTS, PATRIOTS AND EFFECTIVE FRIENDS OF GOD AND MAN.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

SERIOUS-MINDED Americans, from the President down, sense the large significance of National Recognition Day for Sunday School Teachers, October 7. In a letter to Dr. William T. Ellis, the originator of the idea, and Chairman of the National Committee that has promoted it, President Roosevelt wrote as follows:

THE WHITE HOUSE
August 21, 1934.

My dear Doctor Ellis:
I am pleased to learn that a nation-wide tribute will be accorded a large group of our citizens whose service to this Nation, as well as to religion, has been and is one of the real forces for good in our national life.

I suppose that most of us, at one time or another, have been helped by Sunday School teachers. I am one who strongly believes that the Sunday School teachers have helped shape the American character.

Very sincerely yours,
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

WHO LAUDS OCTOBER?

To the Editor:
In a recent issue of the SWARTHMOREAN
"October" got a very beautiful and charming pat on the back. I am sorry I cannot join in the pean of praise for the month
of October. The enclosed verses express my opinion of this much lauded month.
These lines were published once before, but
I do not want October to get away with too much praise.

(Signed) SHADE SIMMONDS.

OCTOBER

Oh! False October, wave your gorgeous
flags,
You cannot charm me with your beautiful lies.
Your dazzling splendor covers winter's rag.
Behind your blue lurks cruel, bleak,
grey skies.

You clothe yourself in garments like a bride,
Your soft cool air is like a girl's caress,
You drape yourself with glory just to hide,
The snarling winter with your charming dress.

The eager trees reach for your wealth untold,
They proudly wave their treasures to the sky.
Then winter strips them bare of your fake gold,
And leaves them naked, shivering as they die.

Out, out upon you, you perfidious thing!
The promise that you give is lying breath,
You are not sister to the lovely Spring,
You're only helmsmaid to cold, hard-eyed death.

Friends' Meeting

The Meeting House was filled on Sunday.
A beautiful service of worship in the manner of the Friends was deeply impressive.

The First Day School was well filled with young people who were greeted by the following teachers: George A. Bourde-lais, high school and college boys; Mary Dickinson, high school girls; Claude Smith, junior high school girls; Florence Hoadley, junior high school girls; Mrs. Farley, grade girls; Mr. Brownell, grade boys; Peter E.
Told, Paul Brown and Elliott Richardson,
also grade boys; Mrs. Park, grade girls;
Leonore Perkins, Dorothy Simmons and Gilbert Preston, primary grade girls and boys, and Gertrude Thatcher, kindergarten.
Ellen Abell is chairman of the First Day School Committee; Ethel Durnell, superintendent; Mrs. Hunt, pianist, and Gertrude Walton, secretary of the school. Paul Cleaver, former superintendent, ably assisted on Sunday.

WHO LAUDS OCTOBER?

To the Editor:
In a recent issue of the SWARTHMOREAN
"October" got a very beautiful and charming pat on the back. I am sorry I cannot
join in the pean of praise for the month
of October. The enclosed verses express
my opinion of this much lauded month.
These lines were published once before, but
I do not want October to get away with
too much praise.

(Signed) SHADE SIMMONDS.

OCTOBER

Oh! False October, wave your gorgeous
flags,
You cannot charm me with your beautiful lies.
Your dazzling splendor covers winter's rag.
Behind your blue lurks cruel, bleak,
grey skies.

Engagement of Clara Taylor Announced

Lt. and Mrs. Conrad to Winter in Washington, D. C., After Year Abroad

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Clara Bond Taylor, daughter of Mrs. William C. Taylor, of Erie, Pa., until recently of 530 Riverview Road, Swarthmore, to Dr. Hermann Rudolph Seibold, of New York City, on Saturday, October 20, at 8 o'clock in the evening, at Grace Church Chantry, Tenth Street and Broadway, New York City.

After returning from a wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Long Island about November 15.

Lieutenant and Mrs. R. D. Conrad have just returned from a year abroad, where Lieutenant Conrad studied at Trinity College, Cambridge.

Miss Eleanor McGill, of Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, has been the guest of Miss Constance Kent, of Elm Avenue, since the first of the week.

This miniature country estate, in Wallingford, near the station, is an exquisite bit of architecture set in the midst of an old orchard. Two acres, surrounded by an old farm-like white-washed fence, at the end of a long lane, off the highway. The house, of whitewashed stone, was built three years ago, with every attention to detail, comfort and convenience, at a stated cost of $40,000. Now, it must be sacrificed—probably at half price.

This is the best opportunity offered in our experience. Little cash is required.

75TH ANNUAL FALL MEET AT ROSE TREE
Racing Meets to Be Held Next Wednesday and Saturday at Media
The 75th Annual Fall Meeting of the Rose Tree Fox Hunting Club, which takes place on Wednesday and Saturday of this week, the 17th and 20th, will be very much of a gala occasion. Rose Tree is the oldest present fox hunting club in America and this meeting is the oldest race meeting that has been kept up continuously throughout the years. Rose Tree was founded in 1859. Previous to that time, fox hunting had been practiced for many years. In fact, George E. Darlington in his book on "Fox Hunting," says: "The memory of living man cannot go back to the time when hounds for hunting the red fox were not kept within their limits." The limits referred to are Delaware and Chester Counties. Bayard Taylor, in his excellent "Story of Kennet" refers in the first chapter to a big hunt at the old Barton Farm near Kennet Square in 1796. The oldest known American fox hunting club was the Gloucester Fox Hunting Club, organized by a number of Philadelphia enthusiasts in 1866, with their kennels near Gloucester, New Jersey. There is a traditional relation between this club and the Rose Tree Fox Hunting Club. This is probably due to the fact that the descendants of this original club bought places in Delaware and Chester Counties and were prominent later in the Rose Tree Club as it was originally called. Such names as Leiper, Cadwalder, Morris, Moylan and others bear this out.

The club was organized in 1859 with J. Howard Lewis as president, George E. Darlington as secretary and J. Hogan Baker, the landlord of the Rose Tree Inn, as treasurer. The club was called the Rose Tree Club because of its having made its headquarters at the Rose Tree Inn. Many old familiar names appear on the roster of the club in its early days, such as General Edward F. Beale, Harry E. Sautnier, Walter M. Sharpless, William H. Corlies, J. Edward Farnum, A. J. Cassatt, Dr. J. William White, Dr. Rush S. Heidekoppe, Daniel Bray, Frank Thomson, Moncure Robinson, Dr. T. C. Stellwagon and others, most of whose descendants are interested in fox hunting to this day.

McClung Returns

Dr. Clarence McClung of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania and Mrs. McClung have recently returned home after an eighteen months' absence. The McClungs traveled through the east before reaching Japan where Dr. McClung lectured in one of the universities. On their homeward way they visited Ceylon and Germany, witnessed the Passion Play at Oberammergau, spent some time in France and Scotland. They sailed from Scotland, landing in Montreal. At present their daughter, Mrs. J. Bullis, and her two children of Wichita, Kans., are their guests.

School Applies To L. W. D. For Labor

Mrs. Luaders, secretary of the board, presented the tax duplicate report as of October 1, 1934. Face of the duplicate, $117,519.49. Taxes received to date, $23,120.51. Balance due, $94,398.98. The unpaid property taxes are as follows: 1929, $75.63; 1930, $482.58; 1931, $1,617.90; 1932, $9,231.09; 1933, $17,638.78. Total, $29,045.98.
Roland L. Eaton, chairman of the Finance Committee, gave a statement of the budget to date and presented current bills totaling $4,234.92, which he was duly authorized to pay. Checks issued from September 11 to October 8 totaled $45,230.84.
The report of the supervising principal showed the total enrollment as of October 1 to be 851, which is 11 less than the September enrollment. Mr. Moore reported that numbers of children were crossing the tracks at Princeton Avenue instead of going through the tunnel. It was decided to call the matter to the attention of Borough Council as well as the railroad company. Repeated warnings have been given in the school, but this dangerous practice continues.
Progress on the gymnasium-cafeteria wing was reported satisfactory.
The regular meeting date was changed from the second Tuesday of each month to the second Monday, after which adjournment took place.

"Give Me Death" Released

Mrs. Isabel Briggs Myers' second book, "Give Me Death," was published yesterday by Frederick A. Stokes Company, New York.
No more satisfactory foreword of this novel can be given the prospective reader, than that of the publishers:
"The Darnells were an honorable house. The Darnells had a Southern pride, a staidness, name, wealth, love, everything to live for."
"Yet one after the other they chose death by their own hands."
"Why?"
"Without anyone ever know why?"
"Or was it better that the youngest of them, Stephen and the lovely Andrea, should never know?"
"Jeremiah, the dramatist, to whom they turned as a friend, believed in facing the truth. But when Stephen was dead, the revelation of the "Why?" forced Jeremiah to the weirdest decision of his career."
"He must either let Andrea die, as Stephen and the rest of her house and died—"
"Or he must live, and undertake a man's death to prove the lie."
"For the rest of it you have to read the book."
However, having read "Give Me Death," we can say that Mrs. Myers has proven her capability of handling a mystery story most expertly.
Without flaw of scientific detail, the story runs easily and smoothly on its course.
Mrs. Myers, who lives on Dickinson Avenue, won the $7,500 mystery novel prize a few years ago with her first book, "Murder Yet to Come."
"Give Me Death" has been dedicated by Mrs. Myers "to Jane (Gemmill) whose participation in this story, problem by problem and page by page, has been half the fun of writing it."
Hallowe'en Card Party
The American Legion and Auxiliary Hallowe'en Card Party will be held at the Strath Haven Inn, on Friday, October 26, at 8 P. M.
There will be table prizes, door prizes, stunts and surprises.
The committee in charge, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy Comley, is Mrs. Oscar Gilcrest, Mr. J. Paul Brown, Mr. Guenther Froebel, Dr. John Murphy and Mr. George Fein.

To Speak at Conference
Charles Kurtzhalb, of Park Avenue, executive secretary of the Delaware County Tuberculosis Association, will present the work of the county at the morning session of the Tuberculosis Conference for Southeastern Pennsylvania, to be held on Thursday, October 18, at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia.

Many Attend "Fortnightly" Meeting

The following new members were present at the first meeting of the season of "The Fortnightly," which was held on Monday at the home of Mrs. Wesley N. Clifford, South Chester Road, who is the founder and leader of the group: Mrs. Carlos Noyes, Mrs. Hertha Smith, Mrs. Charles Fisher and Mrs. Grace Birdsall.
Among others attending the meeting were: Mrs. Arthur Dana, Mrs. Arthur Bassett, Mrs. Arthur Jones, Mrs. Martin B. Young, Mrs. E. Fullerton Cook, Mrs. David McCahan, Mrs. R. Piper, Mrs. Herbert Sanford, Mrs. William Earl Kistler, Mrs. Robert Gillilan, Mrs. Milton Bryant, Mrs. William T. Johnson, Mrs. Joseph Perry, Mrs. Theo. When we are "down," And all delightful things seem swept away;

To pray for strength To bear life's cruel drafts Without at least a chance, to see, Before our mortal visions fade,

Oh, for a Trust That will us courage give, To work and prowl, That though our bodies turn to dust, Yet we are Spirits, and shall live in Heavenly Love.

world courtliness by Sydney S. Parry and Raymond T. Burk, Jr. Here also we meet his employer, Herr Kronfeldt, played by Otto Kraus, Jr., and his son, David, played by Henry A. Periss, Jr., and all the people who help to make up his little world...

The second act gives us a peep inside the walled garden, where we find the girl, Hesta, played with great charm and delicacy, by Doreen Mitchell, waiting for her lover's music to warn her of his coming.

Act three finds us back in the Toymaker's shop again with the Budel family fortune at a very low ebb, but with Herr Budel's faith in the future as unshaken.

The very artistic sets built especially for this play were designed by Barbara Dolman.

The costumes are authentic and will lend an air of reality to the play that is not always found in many a professional production.

This new venture of the Players' Club promises to be most successful, judging from the number of Junior memberships already subscribed.

Adults accompanied by children may attend the matinee, though the evening performance has been arranged especially to satisfy the demand of the grown-ups who wish to enjoy this charming play which some years ago ran for a year in New York under the management of Charles Frohman.

Season tickets or single admissions may be secured at Huchner's Toggery Shop or from Helen K. Warren, treasurer.

Mission for Mr. and Mrs. Walker Friends of the Blue Church, Baltimore Pike and Junior March Road, Springfield, Pa., will be interested to know that Mr. and Mrs. Wendell H. Walker have been called of the Lord to work among the mountaineers of Kentucky.

Following the evening service, at which Mr. Walker will speak, there will be a communion service for all those who wish to remain. It is the desire of Mr. and Mrs. Walker that all friends who wish to say good-bye meet with them in fellowship at the Lord's table.

Services in the Blue Church will continue, the Lord willing, "Morning Bible Study at 11:15, Young People's Meeting at 8:30, Evening Service at 8 o'clock, Prayer Meeting on Wednesday, evening at 8 o'clock.

OCTOBER 12, 1934 OFFICERS ELECTED FOR MUSIC SECTION

First Rehearsal of Season to Be Held Next Monday Morning

A meeting of the music section of the Woman's Club was called on Monday morning by the chairman, Mrs. Jacob Meschter, to outline the year's plans.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. A. S. Wickham, assistant chairman; Mrs. T. Harry Brown, treasurer; Miss Helen McLain, assistant treasurer; and Mrs. Walter Fritz, publicity chairman.

Needlework on Display The contribution of the Junior Woman's Club of the Needlework Guild is on exhibition in the window of the SWARTHMOREAN.

Seasoned Cord Wood Dry Kindling Wood When we deliver four tons or more of one kind of coal at one time, we give a special price.

WOODEN PIPES

Wooden pipes were first used to carry water because cast-iron was too expensive and too scarce. Straight Pitch Pine or Yellow Pine logs from fourteen to twenty feet in length were chosen for this purpose and hollowed out with augers.

Although these early pipe lines no doubt leaked considerably, they nevertheless served their purpose until the next stage in water system development... the general use of cast-iron pipe.

Today you can get all the pure water you can use on the top floor of your home as well as on the ground floor because it is constantly kept under pressure day and night for your safety and convenience.

Plans Laid For Vesper Services

Plans have been made to have two organ recitals a month, one rendered by Mr. White and one by Mr. McCurdy. This Sunday Mr. White will be the organist. One Sunday each month will be devoted to student recitals and the fourth Sunday to a series of talks by the faculty on "What I Believe In."

Future Cared For By Present Work

The following is an account prepared by Mrs. Helen Muth, of the Community Health Society of Central Delaware County: "The present attention given to State and Federal Aid for Unemployment Relief has made us lose sight momentarily of the function the private agency. At the present time, State and Federal funds are organized to meet an emergency which seems now to have become permanent. Consequently, it will be some time before public agencies can turn their attention from unemployment relief to a preventive program. We must not lose sight of the fact that if we do not have a preventive program to avert dependency, delinquency, and mental illness, the taxes for State and Federal aid will become an unmountable burden upon the public. We must have our local community program supported as well as our State and Federal program.

"The following illustrations will illustrate how our agency tries to take preventive measures. Dick, Joe, Danny and Nancy were sent by the agency to a very special camp where they received supervision under trained direction. Each child was in need of particular care.

"Dick was the eldest child in his family. Although only fourteen, he had shouldered the little and played truant from school. His mother was in poor health and his father was a problem. Dick's stay in camp, although for only two short weeks, gave him a chance to play to his heart's content with other boys of his own age, and he was well nourished and built up for the coming winter.

"Joe was a problem child—but then his parents were problems, too. He had appropriated things here and there, lied a little and played truant from school. A social worker spent many hours with him, and ultimately her attention brought results. A year, a year and a half, two years of good behavior. Camp, where he had never been before, was both incentive and reward.

"Danny's family were sickly; his father and mother were advanced in years; his brother was confined in a tuberculosis sanatorium. The clinic had been checking on Danny's health and although there were no signs of disease he was underweight. Camp gave him the outdoor life with good food which always spells improvement.

"Nancy had been a difficult child. Her family wondered what on earth was the matter with her. She was a likeable youngster, but so changeable. She would act out to do what her parents said, but the next minute would be off doing something else. In school she had difficulty coping up with the other children. Finally her parents took her to a psychologist. He discovered that she was unable to compete with children of the same chronological age. It was necessary to explain this child to her parents and teachers. Attendance at camp offered a breathing space to the child and her family. After camp she was welcomed back home because her family had a better understanding of her difficulty.

"It will be valuable to find and interpret special abilities and aptitudes. Something interesting can be found for every child in which she can excel and be made to feel worthwhile.

"Each of these children said 'thank you and we pass their gratitude on to the luncheon, the Presbyterian Women's Association and Mrs. Geer, who made camp possible for them.

"Another case was Patsy, a lovable child, who was very much excited by the business of living. Everything was so exciting that she could not tell you about it quite fast enough. Her words tumbled over each other until it was almost impossible to distinguish her from another. Her family became concerned about her and asked for advice. They were told about treatment through a child guidance center. Here Patsy has received regular attention. Her family believe that she has been helped since the first interview.

"Ann, a tall, plucky, adolescent girl, was very much dawkified with life. She lived

Plans Laid For Vesper Services

Dr. Blanshard gave the first lecture of this series last week. Dr. Blanshard, after giving a brief outline of the history of religion during the past hundred years, that his religion consisted in the "devotion of mind and soul as a whole to the intrinsic values of truth, beauty and goodness."

W. I. L. Meeting Stimulating

Speaking before the county-wide meeting of the Delaware County League of Women Voters at Sleighton Farms on Friday, October 5, Dr. Stewart Coles, of Crozer Theological Seminary, who made the "Recreational Survey for the County," said: "School boards do not seem to favor generally the use of our schools as recreational centers, for they are closed 90 per cent of the time."

W. I. L. Card Party

Due to an error in last week's issue we are republishing the following notice: Mrs. Robert C. Disque and Mrs. Arthur E. Bye will give a joint card party in their two adjoining homes on Strath Haven Avenue on Monday, October 29, at 2 o'clock, the date having been changed since last week.

Dancing Classes Begin Next Month

The Swarthmore dancing classes are scheduled to begin on November 3 and November 10, and the invitations are being sent out.

Although the committee has gone over all the lists of former years, and also has tried to get the names of all new children in the various schools, undoubtedly many omissions have occurred, especially as the invitations have been delivered by hand or sent by second-class mail which would not be forwarded. So some of them may fail to reach their destination, and if yours does not arrive within a reasonable length of time, please see or telephone the chairman, Mrs. John Marshall, Lincoln Avenue, Swarthmore, phone 1324; or the hostess, Mrs. Walter S. James, 407 Yale Avenue, telephone, Swarthmore 400.

The classes are meant for all the Swarthmore children of seventh grade age and not for other children who, while they do not live in Swarthmore, attend school here.

In the first few years, however, there has been an ever-increasing number of applications from children who neither live in Swarthmore or come to school here. At the meeting of mothers held last Spring it was voted that outside children should not be accepted until the Swarthmore children were all provided for and it was evident that there would be room for them without crowding, or without making an uneven number of boys and girls.

The same meeting also voted that no children under the seventh grade in school should be admitted to the classes. The committee, therefore, has no choice in the matter and can make no exceptions to the rule, but that presumably they will still have six years of dancing class ahead of them.

Each class will meet at the Woman's Club nearly every other Saturday night from November until April. Nine meetings of each class will be arranged and a tenth will be added, as in previous years, if there is enough money.

Mrs. McCrea has consented to take the position of teacher again, with Mr. Gustave Mechling as her dancing partner. A second assistant, Herbert Michener, Swarthmore High School Class of 1933, has also been engaged.

Dancing Classes Begin Next Month

The Swarthmore dancing classes are scheduled to begin on November 3 and November 10, and the invitations are being sent out.

Although the committee has gone over all the lists of former years, and also has tried to get the names of all new children in the various schools, undoubtedly many omissions have occurred, especially as the invitations have been delivered by hand or sent by second-class mail which would not be forwarded. So some of them may fail to reach their destination, and if yours does not arrive within a reasonable length of time, please see or telephone the chairman, Mrs. John Marshall, Lincoln Avenue, Swarthmore, phone 1324; or the hostess, Mrs. Walter S. James, 407 Yale Avenue, telephone, Swarthmore 400.

The classes are meant for all the Swarthmore children of seventh grade age and not for other children who, while they do not live in Swarthmore, attend school here.

In the first few years, however, there has been an ever-increasing number of applications from children who neither live in Swarthmore or come to school here. At the meeting of mothers held last Spring it was voted that outside children should not be accepted until the Swarthmore children were all provided for and it was evident that there would be room for them without crowding, or without making an uneven number of boys and girls.

The same meeting also voted that no children under the seventh grade in school should be admitted to the classes. The committee, therefore, has no choice in the matter and can make no exceptions to the rule, but that presumably they will still have six years of dancing class ahead of them.

Each class will meet at the Woman's Club nearly every other Saturday night from November until April. Nine meetings of each class will be arranged and a tenth will be added, as in previous years, if there is enough money.

Mrs. McCrea has consented to take the position of teacher again, with Mr. Gustave Mechling as her dancing partner. A second assistant, Herbert Michener, Swarthmore High School Class of 1933, has also been engaged.

FUTURE CARED FOR BY PRESENT WORK

Valuable Daily Program of Local Relief Agency Described in Detail

The following is an account prepared by Mrs. Helen Smith, of the Community Health Society of Central Delaware County:

The following illustrations will illustrate how our agency tries to take preventive measures. Dick, Joe, Danny and Nancy were sent by the agency to a very special camp where they received supervision under trained direction.

Joe was a problem child—but then his parents were problems, too. He had a number of things here and there, but a little and spent many hours with him, and ultimately her attention brought results.

"Nancy had been a difficult child. Her mother was on earth with a likable matter with her. She was a likable youngster, but so changeable. She would start out to do what her parents said, but next minute would be off doing something else.

"Each of these children said 'thank you' and we pass their gratitude on to the tutors, the Presbyterian Women's Association and Mrs. Geer, who made camp possible for them.

Due to an error in last week's issue we are republishing the following notice: Mrs. Robert C. Disque and Mrs. Arthur E. Hye will give a joint card party in their new adjoining homes on Strath Haven Avenue on Monday, October 29, at 2 o'clock, the date having been changed since last week.

DANCING CLASSES BEGIN NEXT MONTH

Invitations Issued for This Fall's Classes to Begin on November 3rd and 10th

The Swarthmore dancing classes are scheduled to begin on November 3 and November 10, and the invitations are being sent out.

At the meeting of mothers held last Spring when the present committee was elected, it was voted that outside children should not be accepted until the Swarthmore children were all provided for and it was evident that there would be room for them without crowding, or without making an uneven number of boys and girls.

The committee is glad to announce the engagement of a new orchestra, a group of young college men from the Main Line, headed by Ken Nelson. It is composed of seven pieces—piano, violin, drums, cornet and three saxophones.

W. I. L. Meeting Stimulating

Speaking before the county-wide meeting of the Delaware County League of Women Voters at Sleighton Farms on Friday, October 5, Dr. Stewart Coles, of Crozer Theological Seminary, who made the 'Recreational Survey for the County, said: "School Boards do not seem to favor generally the use of our schools as recreational centers, for they are closed 90 per cent of the time."

The day was filled with fine talks and gave much food for thought to the body of several hundred women gathered together. Following the afternoon talks, a resolution was proposed by Mrs. Jacqueline, of Swarthmore, and adopted by the meeting, as follows:

"Since the community and various agencies of the community bear a large share in the responsibility for the delinquency of children brought before the court, we, the Delaware County League of Women Voters, in full session assembled at Sleighton Farms, on October 5, 1934, desire to acknowledge this responsibility and to place ourselves at the disposal of the courts to help in efforts at prevention, and in support of high standards of treatment and care of such children."

A Recreational Survey will be published in the near future to which the women of Delaware County were recommended for enlightening information concerning the use of school properties and other matters, and Dr. Coles expressed himself as hoping the women would study it and spread the gospel of providing county children with decent recreations. Clubs, he said, should promote parks, Delaware County should own for the future the great areas of beauty and natural wealth of wild growth for recreational centers. Only 338 acres are so owned now. STATE DEPT. OF CORRECTION PROPOSED

Such a Department Would Eliminate Much Waste, L. W. V. Is Told

If the state could have an intelligent long-time plan for the treatment of prisoners it would be less costly in both money and human lives.

Mr. Albert G. Fraser, of the Pennsylvania Prison Society, brought this news out before a well attended meeting of the League of Women Voters on Tuesday, October 16.

Major Fellman, Warden of the Delaware County Prison, was the second speaker. Major Fellman, in addressing the members of the League, reminded them that Governor Pinchot's appointment of a woman, Dr. Potter, as Secretary of Welfare, was the first step in modern penology.

INTER-TROOP SCOUT PROGRAM PLANNED

Swarthmore Boy Scouts Looking Forward to Interesting Events in Coming Months

The members of the three troops of Boy Scouts of Swarthmore have started to realize that Scouting is just a big game. When Scouting was studied, it was discovered that Fun, Community Service, Brotherhood and Sociability, Eating, Outing and last but not least, Advancement in Scouting, were among the things a Scout should enjoy.

To make this discovery a reality a committee, chosen from the three troops, met to organize some interesting events. Below are listed some of them, and the probable dates for them.

On Saturday, November 3, all the tent-deer of Swarthmore will go on a seven hour hike.

Saturday, November 10, the second class Scouts will go on an overnight hike. On Friday, the 16th of November, there will be a general fun night for all the troops of Swarthmore, when many games will be played.

All the first class Scouts will have a special treat as probably they will spend two nights at Camp Delmont, the Boy Scout camp for this district, over the Christmas holidays.

On New Year's Eve, the Scout dance will be given. Get your dates now. The Scouts expect to try something new this year, a United Scout Banquet. It will probably be held on February 8, 1935. To end this wonderful program, it is hoped to take all the Scouts in Swarthmore to Camp Delmont for an overnight hike.

The committee chosen by the troops to represent them in the above plans was: From Troop 3—Clifford Colewohy and Ted Hannum.

From Troop 2—Bob Delaplane and John Miller. From Troop 1—Cliff Renshaw and Bill Thomas.

WOMEN ENJOY HOPE LeBAR ROBERTS' TALK

Popular Lecturer Speaks on International Current Events at Women's Club

Hope LeBar Roberts, the popular lecturer, spoke on current events under the title, "Editing the Summer News," to a large and interested audience at the stated meeting of the Swarthmore Woman's Club on Tuesday, October 23.

Mrs. Roberts began and ended her discussion with some views on events and conditions in the United States, but in the course of her talk she touched briefly and vividly on affairs in many other parts of the world.

On Tuesday, October 30, the meeting of the Woman's Club will be in charge of the Garden Committee, Mrs. A. R. O. Redgrave, chairman. Mrs. M. F. Kubert, author and lecturer, will speak on "Flower Arrangement."

On Wednesday evening, October 20, the enthusiasm which greeted both performances indicates that this series is filling a need as well as that it will be a financial success.

More than three hundred junior subscribers, plus friends, parents and other interested senior members crowded the house at the matinee, filling every available seat, including emergency chairs and benches set up in the balcony-rehearsal room, while many had to stand.

The "King's Guard" in their colorful uniforms, the old sergeant and the toymaker made particular appeal to the children. After the matinee, an innovation was tried as the children and the children in the audience were invited to come up to meet the players who had stationed themselves at the various exits.

As the youngsters came swarming out to shake hands with the players it was evident that many of them had had a good cry as well as many laughs during the course of this moving, gripping, romantic comedy-drama.

Firestone Wins Again

An American, single-handed, has won laurels from picked crews of Europe's greatest speed champions. America can be justly proud of the world records won by Ab Jenkins, according to Charles Russell, of Russell's Firestone Service.

"Jenkins sat at the wheel of his powerful car for twenty-four hours, driving on through the heat of the day and the blast of the night, stopping only for fuel," Mr. Russell said. "Traveling at 132 miles per hour around the ten-mile course on the salt beds at Lake Bonneville, Utah, with the temperature reaching 120 degrees, the iron-hearted driver smashed seventy-seven American A. A. international and world records. His amazing average, including stops, was 12.2 miles per hour.

"The Firestone spark plugs he used in his record-breaking run fired more than 84,000,000 times without a miss. The battery, also made at the Firestone factory, required no service whatever. Jenkins said the performance of these products was the most remarkable he had ever seen.

"Ab Jenkins holds offices in important national and state safety organizations," Mr. Russell concluded. "He believes speed in itself is not dangerous, but that it is always unwise to drive with any but the safest equipment. He has driven more than a million miles on Firestone tires without an accident."

Legion Card Party Tonight

A Legion and Auxiliary sponsored card party is planned for Friday, October 26, at the Strath Haven Inn. There will be a number of unusual features, including a floor show to close the evening. Everyone is invited.

Attending Harrisburg Meeting

In company with Dr. Walter R. Kraus, Superintendent of Pennhurst State School, and Mrs. Kraus, Mrs. Edwin A. Yarnall, of Kenyon Avenue, attended the semi-annual meeting of the Trustees and Superintendents of Pennsylvania State Schools and Hospitals for the Mentally Diseased and the Feeble-minded. This meeting was held in the Harrisburg State Hospital last Friday.

THE SWARTHMOREAN

Dr. and Mrs. Allan King, of Wilmington, Del., are being congratulated upon the birth of a son on Tuesday.

Mrs. King is the former Miss Mae Krevh of Swarthmore.

MORE THAN A MERCHANT

You, who hand your druggist that "piece of paper" from which he dispenses the physician's words so that he can dispense the precious medicine needed by your boy, your wife, your mother, never really give him a second thought. You just take him for granted—someone to fill that prescription, to sell you a tube of toothpaste, to change that dime for nickels.

CAPACITY HOUSE GREETES JR. PLAY

"The Toymaker of Nuremberg" Enjoyed by Full House Both Afternoon and Evening

Colorful costumes, attractive scenery, a well-balanced and well-directed cast, all contributed to the artistic success of "The Toymaker of Nuremberg," which opened the new series of Junior Plays presented for the first time by the Players' Club of Swarthmore on Saturday, October 20.

The crisis arising from the assassination of King Alexander could not be omitted from any consideration of present European conditions. The speaker summarized the delicate situation with particular reference to Italy's position, but expressed the opinion that it will not lead to war unless England and France change their present attitude against such an outbreak.

The speaker emphasized the fact that the working out of such a complete change in form of government must always be a long and painful process. "We are in an era of governmental evolution arising from social unrest," said Mrs. Roberts.

More than three hundred junior subscribers, plus friends, parents and other interested senior members crowded the house at the matinee, filling every available seat, including emergency chairs and benches set up in the balcony-rehearsal room, while many had to stand.

The "King's Guard" in their colorful uniforms, the old sergeant and the toymaker made particular appeal to the children. After the matinee, an innovation was tried as the children and the children in the audience were invited to come up to meet the players who had stationed themselves at the various exits.

As the youngsters came swarming out to shake hands with the players it was evident that many of them had had a good cry as well as many laughs during the course of this moving, gripping, romantic comedy-drama.

this district to the Democratic Convention which nominated F. D. Roosevelt for President. He was one of the four members of the Pennsylvania NRA Board. He belonged to the Penn Athletic Club, Rose Tree Hunt Club, New Aronimink Club and Seaview Club at Absecon.

Mr. Emmons began his career with the Bell Telephone Company, entering the coal business shortly after with the Thorne-Neale Company. Two years later he went into business for himself, starting the Emmons Coal Mining Company. His brothers, James and Grey, came into the firm in 1914. They had vast holdings and coal fields in West Virginia. He was a promoter of the Hulbert Oil and Grease Company of Philadelphia. About 1916 he began his real estate activities and building in Swarthmore and vicinity. In recent years he opened an office at Baltimore Pike and Riverview Road and conducted his real estate brokerage and insurance business from there. He has built many of Swarthmore's finest homes and also developed Lapidea Hills, between Swarthmore and Chester.

His hobby was his herd of registered Guernsey cows and running his model farm. He was always generous in allowing the townspeople the use of the swimming pool and opening the grove to the Country Week Picnic Association each year.

He is survived by his widow, Alice Lemon Emmons; a son, Louis Cole Emmons; Wills Brodhead, whom he had raised; his mother, Mrs. Hattie C. Emmons, of Philadelphia; two brothers, French and Grey, of Germantown, and a sister, Mrs. Edward McCarty, of Kansas City.

Boys to Repay Damages

With the co-operation of the police department the school authorities have discovered the culprits who did almost $50 worth of damage at the College Avenue School a week ago Sunday. Glass was broken in the grade school building, the roofs of the grade school and of the shop were broken in several places where stones fell upon them and other miscellaneous damage done.

The three boys who did the damage were suspended from school temporarily. At a meeting of the parents and the instruction committee of the school board, it was decided the boys could return to school, but must earn the money to repay the repairs and were put on good behavior probation.

Needlework Guild Exhibit

The Swarthmore Branch of the Needlework Guild held its annual collection of garments for distribution at the Woman's Club House on Wednesday. Tea was served. Mrs. Leroy Mercer presided at the tea table.

With their appearance, we sincerely believe that the gulf between Packard and the next best fine car has become wider than ever before in history.

That statement is naturally open to challenge. And we would like to have you challenge it.

Come in and see these new Packards—ride in them and drive them. Then come to two conclusions: First, whether or not you want to buy a car in Packard's class. Second, whether or not you want to buy a Packard. We believe the answer in both cases will be "YES!"

What you will discover when you see the 1935 Packard

The most beautiful car in Packard's history—modern, stream-lined—yet retaining, and even emphasizing, Packard's famous identifying lines . . . Inside the car, a magnificent new interior treatment—smartly tailored, correct in every detail . . . Unbelievably spacious bodies—wider seats, doors that are easier to get into and out of.

What you will discover when you drive the 1935 Packard

That in every detail of comfort, convenience and operation, this car is the last word in ease and luxury. Seats are more relaxing. Windshield and windows are larger, providing greater vision than ever before. The car is easier to handle, easier to ride in even than last year's car.

What you will discover when you own the 1935 Packard

Only by owning this car for years will you realize its enduring values—its style, its mechanical excellence, the superb craftsmanship that has gone into its bodies, the long life of its motor, and its all-round economy of operation. All these things were bred out of the most exacting tests ever given a new motor car.
